FEARS FOR

ROOT PARTY

Chili Sends Torpedo Boat to Search For Charleston

IS THREE DAYS OVERDUE

Dense Fog and Heavy Storms Along the Coast Cause Great Apprehension—Chilian Boats Also Are Missing.

Lotu, Chili, Sept. 1.—The gravest fears are entertained here for the safety of the United States cruiser Charleston, with Secretary of War Root and party on board, which was due to arrive here on Wednesday.

So apprehensive has the Chilean government become that yesterday the torpedo gunboat Almirante Simpson was ordered out to search for the Charleston.

Not the slightest trace of the whereabouts of the Charleston has been discovered, and it is feared the vessel may have been wrecked in the dense fog which followed the heavy storm on the day the vessel was due to arrive in this city. Neither is there any trace of the cruiser Ministro Zenteno, which was despatched to meet the American boat. Secretary Root and party were to have been elaborately received in this city and the reception committee's arrangements are at a standstill.

The government, in the event of the failure of the Almirante Simpson to locate the missing Charleston, will send another boat to aid in the search.

HENS BESETTING SIN

TO BE OVERCOME?

Luther Bubank Process to Eliminate the Undue Tendency to Sitting.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—The American hen is to be given a course in the Luther Bubank finishing school. The department of agriculture proposes to take her in and train her to lay more frequently and cheerfully and especially to induce her to lay at least once a day in cold weather.

It is found that the besetting sin of the hen is wanting to sit. If it wasn't for the distraction of this strange ambition, she would be much more useful. So it is proposed, if possible, to develop a hen that will not want to sit.

To this end Secretary Wilson has established under the bureau of animal industry a hen department, in charge of Robert R. Slocum, a hen expert. Mr. Slocum will establish a big hen farm near Baltimore, where colonies of hens will be handled by various processes, and a scientific diet and course of treatment worked out.

Postal Clerks' Unions Must Not Be Political.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The report that the postal clerks in Chicago had formed an organization to be allied with the American federation of labor, has not excited much comment among officials of the postoffice department. There is not the slightest objection to the formation of unions among the employees for mutual improvement or social enjoyment, but when it comes to an alliance with a labor organization that plays an active part in the field of politics and strives to elect men to Congress who will obey the beck and call of Congress, that is a different matter. Such organizations in the postoffice department are forbidden and they are also against the civil service laws.

Potatoes for Man and Beast.

Dumb animals of the Nottingham district have been getting strange food lately. One of the American consuls within our gates has discovered that last year's unusually large acreage and yield of potatoes in those parts left many farmers with a quantity of unsalable stock on hand. Some of these enterprising farmers had an idea, and soon proved that all kinds of stock, even horses, like potatoes when properly served. "An extensive farmer in Lincolnshire, who declined an offer of 35 shillings per ton for his old potatoes, boils and mashes them and serves them mixed with oat straw to his horses, which eat them with evident relish. After several weeks of such feeding the horses seem in prime condition. Milch cows were also fed on a similar diet, with apparently satisfactory results. Calves were also thus fed, and pigs, of course—the latter particularly thriving and fattening on the potatoes." Athletic training experts condemn the potato as "bad for the wind"—or they used to in our day. By this time, we dare say, it has been discovered to be the secret of physical success, and the one food that really helps to get hold of the beginning and finish it out hard. But we should like to know how that "extensive farmer" finds his hunter carrying him over the fences on the new diet.—London Daily News.

Sixteen Escaped.

Billy—Did you have a good time, Dolly?

Dolly—Did I have a good time? Well, I should say I did. I got engaged seven times, and one of them is permanent.—Somerville Journal.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Harry H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by Red Cross Pharmacy.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Barre Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching, with distressing urinary disorders, daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Barre people endorse this claim:

M. I. Spaulding, painter, living at the corner of Warren street and Maple avenue, Barre, Vt., says: "I had more or less kidney trouble for five years, and think it was brought on by conditions which any man working at my trade is subject to. After a hard day's work there would be such an aching in my back that I could hardly sleep at all. Dark spots floated before my eyes at times and the action of the kidney secretions plainly showed that the kidneys were disordered. The use of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at E. A. Drown's drug store, stopped the backache and corrected the kidney weakness so that the secretions were regulated and became natural in color. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I know of, and I have advised their use to friends whom I have heard complaining of their back or kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PLAYWRIGHT ADE HAS BECOME PRIZE FARMER

Keaps Biggest Crop of Oats Per Acre of Any Harvested in His County.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 1.—George Ade, humorist and playwright, is now a prize farmer. Of all the Newton County farms, Ade's has done the best on oats. At the time of sowing Ade claimed to know little about any crop except oats, and so an oat-growing contest was started.

Ade's crop was the last to be threshed, and from the 38 acres there was a triple more than 2,000 bushels obtained, the largest yield to the acre in Newton County.

PANAMA LOCKS MAY BE

LARGER THAN PLANNED

Commission Likely to Change the Specifications Made by Congress.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Locks for the Panama canal probably will be built 100 feet wide with usable lengths of 1,000 feet. The plans adopted by Congress provide for locks 95 feet wide with usable lengths of 900 feet.

The canal commission takes the position that it is given discretion by Congress to build larger locks. Ships are being built which would test the capacity of the 900-foot locks if offered for conveyance through the canal.

It will be about two years before the work of constructing the locks will be begun. The association of cement manufacturers in the United States has shown considerable activity in getting more advantageous shipping facilities between the isthmus and ports on the coast of the United States and may therefore be prepared to compete with foreign cement. The American manufacturers complain of the stipulation made by the canal commission that cement shall be shipped to the isthmus in steam-propelled vessels. The Walker canal commission had ruled that cement deteriorated in damp holds of slow going schooners.

JOE'S ONE MEAL.

Cultured Boston Tramp, Sent to Newport Jail, Finds Pleasure in Memory.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 1.—"Joe" Miller, the cultured Boston tramp, has been given six months in jail for vagrancy; but he is consoled by the recollection of the same gilt-edged meal he had in Harry O. Havemeyer's pantry.

"Boston is all very well," said Joe in the morning, "but it's awful in the silly season. Positively, y'know, every one's out of town. William Dean Howells was right when he said all one saw was a succession of shuttered windows and boarded-up doorways. So I came to Newport, which is still entertaining, although we all know it isn't what it used to be before the 'new rich' got in."

"Well, I rose the next morning, and after a simple breakfast strolled out along Bellevue avenue. I thought I would drop in on Harry Havemeyer, y'know, but I didn't find anyone about."

"Knowing how informal people are in the summer season, I thought I would come in, anyhow; in fact, I even went around the back way just to make no trouble. I went in the back door and while passing through the dining room noticed the butler's pantry."

"It was that pate de foie gras. I just dote on pate. I looked about by myself, not wishing to trouble anyone. I found a bit of a joint and a bottle of seltzer and some old Scotch whiskey and arranged for myself just the daintiest bit of a lunch. So I sat down. I was thinking how the folks at home would like to be with me, when in comes the butler. I made no argument. It is bad form to engage in controversy with a servant. I just went along with him and accepted the situation with my usual savoir faire."

The Potato's Eyes and the Blind Woman

Mrs. S. M. Kirk, an Oklahoma woman, living at Ponca Valley, has been blind for many years. She has acquired a sense of feeling that is remarkable. She prepares the meals for the family with little assistance, and in parsing potatoes can pick out the eyes with as much skill and precision as if she could see in the best way. She makes all the dresses for her two little girls, and can get all the different pieces together without getting one of them wrong. One of the most remarkable things is in sewing carpet bags. She can pick out all those of the same color and take them together without a miss, and in threading a needle she does it as well and quietly as if her eyesight were perfect. In baking cakes she can combine all the necessary ingredients in their proper proportions, and the product is faultless. Mrs. Kirk has never spent a day in a school for the blind, but has learned to do these things in her own home and altogether by application. She lost one of her eyes when a small child, but has been totally blind for the last twelve years.—Kansas City Journal.
